Participation/ support in the MEDACIP-Project

Dear Sirs

The RSTC Europe is the European branch of the World RSTC, which is an umbrella organisation for the most important Dive Organisations in the world. One of the most relevant aims is, to create, to improve and to guarantee minimum standards, related to the education and training of recreational divers.

Another very important goal is, to achieve sustainability and best practise in the relationship between diving/ diving tourism and environmental protection to avoid both:

1. Non-essential negative impact on the environment
2. Inappropriate restrictions for divers and negative consequences for the entire diving industry

The participation in the MEDACIP project would be a perfect possibility to have a positive impact on the divers, the dive industry and the environmental aspects as well.

For better understanding of our work, please find enclosed a short brochure with a survey on our aims and a few statistical data. Further information you will find on www.rstc-eu.org

Best regards
